RAZ BAND/Madison Park 11/23/2015:

A classic example of an after hours album, where else would you find a group that has members having you mention Badfinger and Eagles in the same breath---but that's where some of these band members come from. Played with pent up, busman's holiday energy, this is a bunch of pros playing the way they want to play without some label geek that wasn't even born when they were ruling the charts telling them which end is up. With a dose of after hours funky sloppiness that doesn't roll off the rails being the intangible good time element, this is the kind of stuff you see in a club live that finds you not minding paying the babysitting some over time. A rollicking good time you have to be a long time bar band fan to really get. Hot stuff throughout for those in the know.
