

American rockers The RAZ Band have been performing for over thirty years and have included some of classic rock's elite as it's members. Their new album "Madison Park" has been taking shape over the last few years and includes performances from Joey Molland (Badfinger) on guitar and Joe Vitale (Joe Walsh/The Eagles) on drums. The new album begins with the Springsteen-like rock of "$1.50 For Your Love" and the raw, eighties-rock sound of "What Love Can Do." The RAZ Band pays homage to The Beatles with "Time Marches On" as they include Beatle lyrics and melodies from some of their famous songs. They slow the tempo down of the wonderfully simplistic feel of "You're My Love" and the acoustic sing-along "You're The Magic." The energy picks back up with the fun-sounding "Start Your Engines" and the gritting, guitar-driven "You Don't Know A Thing." The sixteen-song album finishes up with a remake of Badfinger's "Love Me Do" and "Shoot'Em Up" from Joey Vitale's solo album. To find out more about The RAZ Band and their new album "Madison Park," please visit their Facebook page at facebook.com/The-RAZ-Band.