

GONZO MULTIMEDIA

RAZ/Best of: So when you've been rubbing shoulders with rock elite for 40 years and never turned off the tape recorder, you get a well stocked, career spanning greatest hits set that shows the world you were the arena rocker that should have been. Sterling power pop with first call pals that kept the ship afloat for years, this is for the rocker in everyone. How such wonderful, mainstream rock could have been under the radar for so long is more than a mystery. Check out this wild ride if too much of today's tuff just leaves you cold. You'll remember why you first wanted to rock.
